VOLUME 8 NUMBER 2 FEBRUARY 2013

'Don’t speak!' Does text-to-speech technology in e-book readers infringe authors’ rights?
The amended Polish Code of Civil Law Procedure: its impact on intellectual property enforcement litigation
Preliminary injunction proceedings in German intellectual property disputes
The feasibility of alternative dispute resolution to resolve intellectual property disputes in Jordan
Routine rejection: Is the EPO’s approach to antibody and polymorph claims correct, balanced and justified?
From GRUR Int.: German claim construction and new procedural rules in patent nullity proceedings
From GRUR Int.: German Federal Court of Justice of 28 June 2012, Case No I ZR 35/11 Hi Hotel

Includes content from GRUR

Oxford UNIVERSITY PRESS
Contents

Guest Editorial
2014—The perfect IP storm?
Gill Grassie ......................................................... 93

Current Intelligence
Patent procedures misuse and drugs: Italian Competition Authority’s Pfizer ruling annulled
Michele Giannino ..................................................... 95

Isolated human genes and related therapeutic treatment methods held patent-eligible
Charles R. Macedo, Michael J. Kasdan, and David P. Goldberg ........................................ 96

Induced infringement of method claims where no single party performs all of the claimed steps
Charles R. Macedo, Michael J. Kasdan, and Amit R. Parikh ........................................ 100

Likelihood of confusion and the importance of clear and precise pleadings
Kate Manning ......................................................... 103

French Cour de cassation invalidates Louboutin’s red sole mark
Agneszka A. Machnicka ........................................ 105

SUSHI not descriptive for chocolate
Banah Simon Phina ................................................... 107

The Irish bread wars of 2012: Supreme Court decision on generic packaging elements could benefit all FMCG market leaders
Niamh Hall ............................................................ 108

Registered designs: prior art and the informed user’s ‘design awareness’
Iain Russell ......................................................... 111

Parental lines of extant hybrids cannot be registered as new plant varieties
Betsy Rajasingh ....................................................... 112

A new intellectual property organization for Africa?
Caroline B. Neube and Eliamani Laltaïka ................................................................. 114

Practice Point
Working with your expert on trade mark surveys
Gabriel M. Gelb, Betsy D. Gelb, and Paul E. Krieger ..................................................... 117

Articles
'Don’t speak!’ Does text-to-speech technology in e-book readers infringe authors’ rights?
Oliver Wolf .......................................................... 124

The amended Polish Code of Civil Law Procedure: its impact on intellectual property enforcement litigation
Katarzyna Zbierska .................................................. 130

Preliminary injunction proceedings in German intellectual property disputes
Askan Deutsch ....................................................... 136

The feasibility of alternative dispute resolution to resolve intellectual property disputes in Jordan
Bashar H. Malkawi ................................................... 146

Routine rejection: Is the EPO’s approach to antibody and polymorph claims correct, balanced and justified?
Stephen Ingham and Darren Smyth .............................................................. 154

From GRUR Int.
German claim construction and new procedural rules in patent nullity proceedings
Karsten König ........................................................ 165

German reference for a preliminary ruling on jurisdiction - Hi Hotel .................................. 168

IP in Review
Artful manoeuvring – all in good sport?
Belinda Isaac ........................................................ 173

A must-have for cinema and copyright lovers
Eleonora Rosati ..................................................... 174

The practical guide to fortress Europe
Christopher Siothers ................................................ 175

ACTA is dead? Long live ACTA! A review of Blakeney on ACTA
Stephen Vousden ................................................... 176