Special Issue: The quest for ‘real’ protection for indigenous intangible property rights
Valuing footsteps—towards a valuation model of indigenous knowledge and cultural expression for the sustainability of indigenous people’s culture
Protection of traditional cultural expressions: an EU perspective
Maximizing biodiversity potential through traditional knowledge documentation: a case study
New Zealand: Wai 262 report and after
South and southern Africa—recent developments in the legal protection of traditional knowledge and traditional cultural expressions
Attempting to unmask legal uniqueness in indigenous artistic manifestations
From GRUR Int: CJEU reference regarding a bank’s right to refuse to testify about trade mark infringer’s account data

Includes content from GRUR_int

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Special Issue: The quest for 'real' protection for indigenous intangible property rights

Guest editors: Keri Johnston and Marion Heathcote

Contents

Editorial

The quest for 'real' protection for indigenous intangible property rights
Keri A.F. Johnston and Marion Heathcote .................. 345

Current Intelligence

FRAND and other requirements in China's Announcement on Releasing (Provisional) Administration Regulations of National Standards Involving Patents
Dan Prud-homme ................................. 346

Courts have no general power of review over EPO grant procedure decisions
Janet Struth and Paul Harris ......................... 349

HTC v Nokia: In the United Kingdom will an injunction be granted following a finding of patent infringement?
Gary Moss ........................................ 351

Patent litigants beware: awards of attorneys' fees just got easier with Federal Circuit's Kilopass decision
Paul Keller and Annsley Merelle Ward .......... 353

Switzerland still not part of Germany, even for trade mark purposes
Jeremy Phillips .................................. 355

ICANN offers rapid relief to trade mark holders in clear cases of infringement
David Taylor ..................................... 357

From pillar to post: Volvo's road-trip in the opposition against Solvo
Esther B. Schnepper .............................. 358

Unincorporated sport associations can seek trade mark protection for the names of non-professional football clubs
Michele Giannino .................................. 359

Better protection for genuine right owners against trade mark squatters: compensation for damages for bad faith
Uğur Aktekin, Güldeniz Doğan Alkan, and Tenzile Koçak ................................. 361

Ericsson faces FRANDly fire in India
Someshwar Banerjee ............................... 363

State of the art

Community trade mark round-up 2013
Arnaud Folliaarp-Mongual and David Rogers ........ 365

Articles

Valuing footsteps—towards a valuation model of indigenous knowledge and cultural expression for the sustainability of indigenous people's culture
Brian Burfitt and Marion Heathcote ................ 383

Protection of traditional cultural expressions: an EU perspective
Christian Arnesen .................................. 389

Maximizing biodiversity potential through traditional knowledge documentation: a case study
Jern Ern Chuah, Ria Manurung, and Margarita Narning ......................... 397

New Zealand: Wai 262 report and after
Barbara Sullivan and Lynell Taffery-Huria ........ 403

South and Southern Africa—recent developments in the legal protection of traditional knowledge and traditional cultural expressions
Andre van der Merwe .................................. 411

Attempting to unmask legal uniqueness in indigenous artistic manifestations
Molly Torsen Stech................................. 419
From GRUR Int.

CJEU reference regarding a bank's right to refuse to testify about trade mark infringer's account data. 436

IP in Review

Intelligent interaction between the law, humans and technology
Angela Daly. 440

Erratum

A valuable and rare insight into a mysterious and recondite area of law
Paul Lambert. 441

At the crossroads of art and law: international art collection. 443